EDUCATION

Ph.D. Computer Science, University of California, Los Angeles, 1987

M.S. Computer Engineering, University of Connecticut, 1980

B.S. Computer Engineering, University of Connecticut, 1980

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

2005-Present: Rutgers Vice President of Research and Graduate and Professional Education

2005-Present Professor II, Computer Science, Rutgers University.

June 2006: Internet Search Advisory Board: Microsoft Corporation.

2003-2007: Expert Witness: Patent Infringement and Invalidity: Personalization and Data Mining: Bartlit Beck Herman Palenchar & Scott and Jones Day

2002-2005: National Science Foundation - Director, Information and Intelligent Systems Division of Computer and Information Science and Engineering

- Manage budget of approximately $180,000,000 to support basic research in Information and Intelligent Systems.
- Supervise team of 15 Ph.D. level program officers and 12 professional administrative staff.
- Coordinate NSF relationships with US intelligence agencies.
- Coordinate research program with Library of Congress on Long Term Archiving and Preservation and with National Institute of Health on Computational Neuroscience.

2002-2005: National Library of Medicine, Board of Regents (ex-Officio)

2000-2001: CEO, AdaptiveInfo, Inc., a private company producing personalization software for the wireless and publishing industries.

1994-2000: Chair, Department of Information and Computer Science, University of California, Irvine

- Managed department with $6-15M budget, 24-36 faculty, 25-35 full time staff during period of rapid growth with declining state support. Responsibilities include budgeting, hiring, building consensus and raising funds.
- Increased corporate support from $600,000 to $6,000,000 and government support from $2M to $6M.
- Increased undergraduate program from 600 to 1100 students, while increasing SAT scores 150 points.
- Created Master of Science in Information and Computer Science Degree.
- Increased graduate program from 75 to 175 students.
- Created CEO Advisory Board.

1987-2005: Faculty Member, University of California, Irvine
1987-1992: Assistant Professor of Information & Computer Science and Cognitive Science
1992-1996: Associate Professor of Information & Computer Science and Cognitive Science
1996-2005: Full Professor of Information & Computer Science and Cognitive Science. Currently on leave to NSF
2001-2002: Member, Scientific Advisory Board, Pharsight Inc., a publicly traded company based in Palo Alto, CA.
1998-1999: Member, Board of Directors, CombiChem, a publicly-traded company based in San Diego, CA involved in computational drug design, purchased by Dupont.
1984-1988: Aerospace Corporation, El Segundo, CA Member of the Technical Staff: Developed expert system for diagnosis of satellite anomalies.
1980-1984: Mitre Corporation, Bedford, MA
1980-1983: Member of the technical staff
1983-1984: Group Leader Artificial Intelligence Technology: Supervised team of 5 developers on expert systems for mission planning.

CITIZENSHIP: US

HONORS: Fellow of the American Association of Artificial Intelligence
